

FIVE CHARGED BODIES FOUND.

Disastrous Fire in a Livery Stable at Detroit.

ANOTHER MAN IS MISSING.

James Cummings Fell Headlong from the Fourth Story and Will Probably Die.

DETROIT, Mich., July 10.—A fire which this morning fire was discovered in the livery stable of G. F. Case, 1010 Washington street, a big four-story building. All of the employees were sent away to the building. On the fourth floor were sleeping accommodations for twenty-four men. How many occupied beds last night is not definitely known, but five nobly bedded and charged bodies are now at the mortuary awaiting burial, and one other person is missing. There were many narrow escapes and heroic rescues by the drivers and police.

The following are the victims:

JOHN SHAW, driver, 25 years old; came from Canada some time ago.

JOHN BOWMAN, second cook, aged 20; formerly of Bay City.

THOMAS WEBB, painter, aged 55; came from London, Ontario, where he has resided for many years.

CHARLES DAVIS, barn man.

EDWARD HUGHES, bootler, aged 25, of Detroit, is known to have been in the building when the fire started, and as he has not since been seen, his body is supposed to be in the ruins.

JAMES C. SHAW, harness, aged 27; has resided at Caledonia, Ontario.

There were about eighty horses stabled in the basement, all of which were gutted out by the fire. The property of C. A. Graves' St. L. G., valued at $1,000, and one of less value. Many vehicles of all descriptions, together with harness and other livery, apparently were destroyed.

James Cummings, aged 15, a stable man, reached a window on the top story, but was overcome by smoke and fainted. He was brought through the window to the street.

The total loss will reach $100,000, perhaps more.

Of all the horses left in the barn, which were owned by Mr. Case, the only one not taken out alive after the fire was Little Mac, the pacer, valued at $3,500.

FIFTEEN BUILDINGS BURNED.

Fire Sweeps Over a Suburb of the City of Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 10.—Fire broke out at Wauwatosa, the western suburb of this city, this morning, sweeping away almost the entire business part of the place within two hours, and entailing a loss of between $40,000 and $50,000. The insurance will not amount to more than half that sum. The only business houses east of the river left standing are Leifer Bros.' general store, Schweiger's drug store and the Greenwood block on the north side of East Main street. Fifteen buildings were totally destroyed, together with the contents of the stores, shops, etc. No fatalities or casualties occurred during the progress of the fire.

A CITY IN DANGER.

Smoky River Flood Increasing at Salina, Kan.

SALINA, Kan., July 10.—The flood which has been raging here is unabated as yet. From 6 to 8 o'clock last night the river rose but half an inch, and from that on till midnight it was at a standstill, and it was thought that the highest water had passed. At 12 m. this morning, however, there was another rise, and at 10 o'clock to-day the river was three inches higher and still rising.

TWO FAILURES.

Announced To-Day on the Board of Trade at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Two failures were announced on the Board of Trade to-day. The firms affected were Gilbert Montague & Co. and F. A. Hibbard & Co. It is claimed that neither of the failures were bad ones, and that both firms will make good settlements.

GRAND-JURY REPORT.

Partial Statement of Its Work and Further Instructions.

The July Grand-jury made a partial report Wednesday at 12:45 o'clock. Before the Grand-jury returned to its deliberations Judge Harvey in the Criminal Court instructed them to investigate the matter of false affidavits made by sureties on bonds as to their property and character. Many persons who have made false affidavits Judge Harvey stated, would be furnished them by the Circuit Attorney. He added that the court must depend upon affidavits almost entirely in accepting bonds for prisoners.

It was inconvenient for Foreman Ed Welsh to continue at the head of the Grand-jury until McKeed was made foreman in his stead.

Many Lewis was indicted for murder in the first degree for the killing of Senator P. R. Morrissey. She was held at the trial, but was released on a $5,000 bond.

Murder first degree: Erasmus Frederick, killing of John H. Lewis, his employer.

Killing of Mrs. J. S. South, Gainesville, Fla., killing of John Williams.

Assault to kill: Patrick Tracy, John White, Lee Smith, and S. S. Sibley, James Gandy, Lee Smith, V. P. Hayes.

Habitual criminal act, James Broadbent, Grand larceny, Wm. Jackson, Mark Conors, Edgar Nash.

Burglary and larceny, Charles Williams, James Cole.

HIT HER IN THE EYE.

Mrs. Lissie Stickney Brutally Choked and Beaten by Her Husband.

Two years of married life has been enough to convince Lissie Stickney that marriage is a failure. She appeared in the First District Court Wednesday to prosecute her husband, George, whom she charged with brutally beating her.

The charge was common occurrence, she said, him to come home drunk beat and choke her and break up the furniture.

Tuesday night he and she were in their room, when he was sent for the police and when the officers arrived they found Stickney had thrown his wife to the floor, her face being a badly swollen and discolored eye bore testimony to the force of the blow she received.

Stickney did not deny the charge. He was sent to jail.

PRAYS FOR RELIEF.

Eugene Hansmann Wants the Door of His Home Unblocked.

Superintendent Eugene Hansmann of the Central Home of Rest, 800 North Levee, has become engrossed in a controversy with the Anchor Line Steamboat Co. Mr. Hansmann charges the rivermen with piling lumber in front of his place until traffic has been obstructed. He has tried to follow the Harbor Department without success. Wednesday morning he laid the matter before Mayor Walbridge.

James Cummings, aged 15, a stable man, reached a window on the top story, but was overcome by smoke and fainted. He was brought through the window to the street.

The total loss will reach $100,000, perhaps more.

Of all the horses left in the barn, which were owned by Mr. Case, the only one not taken out alive after the fire was Little Mac, the pacer, valued at $3,500.

There were about eighty horses stabled in the basement, all of which were gutted out by the fire. The property of C. A. Graves' St. L. G., valued at $1,000, and one of less value. Many vehicles of all descriptions, together with harness and other livery, apparently were destroyed.

NO AGREEMENT WAS REACHED.

Switching Charge Question Still an Unsettled Matter.

CANNOT COME TO TERMS.

Another Conference of the Terminal Officials and the Manufacturers of the City Arranged For.

No agreement was reached between the committees representing the Manufacturers' Association and the Business Men's League and the Council Committee on Railroads at the meeting held on Tuesday afternoon, at which the shippers and merchants presented an amended ordinance for the proposed belt line road.

Chairman Farris of the Railroad Committee said, James Ramsey, general manager of the Terminal Railroad Association, and Maj. C. C. Rainwater, President of the Merchants' Terminal Co., were present to represent the interests of the belt line road.

Messrs. T. P. Plumeridge, L. J. W. Wall and Tom L. Cannon represented the Manufacturers' Association and President S. M. Kennard, Traffic Manager J. S. Leeds, L. Methuddy and J. C. Birge represented the Business Men's League.

These representative business men of St. Louis were there for the purpose of effecting a compromise with the terminal roads in the matter of switching charges in spite of the fact that these corporations are charging double what the railroads are now legally being collected under the ordinances.

The representatives of the belt line road repeated, however, that they could not accept the ordinance as it stands, and that their position has always taken that unless they have things their own way they would have none at all.

Mr. Lewis set forth the amendments proposed by the business men. He declared that the business interests of the city demand that the port of entry facilities be secured, but the interests of the shippers should be considered. He asserted that the Terminal Railroad Association and the two companies owning the terminals of St. Louis, and asked that the restrictions imposed in the belt line ordinance be applied to the belt line.

In the matter of switching charges he demanded that the switching charge at El Alton be a dollar for a distance of three miles and $1.50 for any distance beyond that. This is a reduction of 50 cents from the maximum charge as compared with the charge fixed by the original ordinance. The practice of imposing double and triple switching charges, Lewis proposed, was to be abolished. The amended ordinance also provides that the belt line co. shall furnish terminals for railroads that do not have terminals into St. Louis, a charge to be fixed by arbitration and for the settlement of any differences that may arise between a shipper and the terminal roads, arbitration, and in case of the failure of either party to comply with the condition the decision of the arbitrator selected by the one company in the first instance.

Another amendment proposed by Mr. Lewis placed limitations on the switching charges outside of the city, and the company kicking over the traces, a bond of $100,000, which shall be maintained at all times, is provided. Another amendment provided that the committee on switching work on the proposed road within thirty days and for its completion within two years.

Mr. Rainwater and General Manager Ramsey were there to object. The former stated that the belt line would be forty miles long, and only a portion of it would be within the limits of the remainder in the county. He said the city had no right to say what shall be the charge in the county. As for making the restrictions stand upon the belt line, he said that the matter had been settled. Becker then stepped forward and told the Judge he had the original and Mansfield refused to receive either.

FOILED BY A CYCLIST.

An Attempt to Wreck a Train Which Miscarried.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DEXTON, Mo., July 10.—An attempt was made to wreck the north bound passenger train on the Cotton Belt line six miles south of here this morning. Iron wedges were placed on the inside of the track in a manner that would have been difficult of detection by the engineer and they would have thrown any engine from the track. John Evans, a bicyclist, while riding on the tracks a few minutes before the train was due, discovered the wedge.

A train was wrecked on the same spot three or four years ago. Wesley Robinson, under indictment for the crime, died in the St. Louis jail while awaiting trial.

KEPT HIS SALOON OPEN.

But His Reasons Therefor Were Good Enough to Clear Him.

Henry Meyer, arrested Monday charged with selling liquor without a license, was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Gray Wednesday.

"You acknowledge having kept your saloon open, but your reasons for doing so have expired?" asked Mr. Gray.

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"On account of little money I had to hold for the Grand-Jury," he responded.

"Hold on your honor. I kept open because I lived over the saloon and the stairs leading to the front door opened on my back. If I don't keep open, I will have to close up my home. I didn't have any liquor on the place. There were a few boxes of beer there, but a little girl sold them while I was looking for a job. I bought the stuff and I thought I might as well sell it."

Mr. Meyer's porter seconded him. The Government witnesses had only heard the door open, so Judge Gray discharged him.

Meyer did not intend to keep his saloon open. He gave the name of the dog-catcher and the phone number of the Fire Alarm Telegraph Service was cut off.

JURY ORDER SQUABBLE.

Commissioner Mansfield Cited Before the Probate Court.

Judge Rassieur of the Probate Court has cited Jury Commissioner Mansfield, to show cause Thursday morning why he should not obey an order of the Court to draw a jury for a case to be tried July 15. When Mr. Mansfield heard that he had been cited he went to Judge Rassieur and said he had not received the order. He told the Judge he had the copy, but the judge said that the matter had been settled. Becker then stepped forward and told the Judge he had the original and Mansfield refused to receive either.

NORMAL BIBLE SCHOOL.

The Establishment of a Local Institute Broached.

St. Louis may soon have a normal school for the training of Bible class teachers.

Sunday-school people have felt for some time that the supply of teachers is far short of the demand, and that though the number of teachers was equal to the needs, many of them have more enthusiasm than ability.

The first step towards the establishment of a permanent school will be taken at the Missouri Methodist Assembly, which will be held at Fenton Springs, Mo., July 20 to Aug. 5.

HIS VACCINATION TOOK.

Nathan Fisher Is Likely to Lose His Arm as a Result.

Nathan Fisher, a moving wagon hand, who lives at 1410 Warren street, walked into the Dispensary Tuesday afternoon, took off his coat, rolled up his shirt sleeve and invited the assembled medical and reportorial corps to look at his arm. Nathan had just prided himself on his looks. He took a look. Mr. Fisher wore well up towards the shoulder a raw, angry sore as big as a dollar. It looked like a collar sore on a dog.

Fisher was vaccinated before Christmas and the sore place was the evidence. The vaccination tool was broken when the stock may be held by practically the same parties, and the question resolved itself that the insurance company he had joined would cover the case. An o'er name nothing more than a contract between the doctor and the patient, and the condition could be imposed which the company would accept. This would cover the regulating of switching charges outside of the city, and the same would apply to any company other than the one accepting the terms of the ordinance. Mr. Ferriss laid stress upon the fact that there should be no conflict in the law, but it was apparent that the representatives of the Terminal combine were not there to make any concession.

Mr. Ramsey told how identical the interests of his company are with those of the shippers of St. Louis. He said the belt line was built for the benefit of the city, and that it is not worth $1,000, nor will it be. Industries are located along its line. Over half a million dollars worth of goods are shipped each year, and there will be required to complete the work. To realize 6 per cent on this $90,000 will not have to be done, and the company can only do it by handling 40,000 cars in $1.50, while there is not now a single car in sight.

For Mr. Ramsey and Maj. Rainwater referred contemptuously to the newspaper comments on the matter of switching charges, and it seemed to be tacitly desired that the public should understand the difference. It was finally agreed that the representatives of the Terminal roads would meet the Manufacturers' Association Committee at the rooms of the latter in the Security Building at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Ramsey argued that the consolidation of the terminal roads has proven a good thing for St. Louis business men in that changes had been made since the organization of the committee of the Manufacturers' Association Committee objected to this statement and said his charges had been made according to the new rates. The Merchants' Terminal charges are $2 a car, the Terminal Railroad charges $2 a car, and formerly charged $2.50, the Missouri Pacific $2.50, the Wabash and until recently charged $2.50, and the Wabash still charges $2 a car. If a shipper happens to be unfortunate enough to have to pay $2.50, he will be charged $2.50, and it is not probable that a pool will be formed before he returns.

POWELL GAVE BOND.

We Will Return to Little Rock Later for Trial.

Will H. Powell, the man in the Burlington passenger office, who was arrested here by the Sheriff of Little Rock, Ark., and taken to that city on the charge of killing his wife, will be tried next September. A telegram from Little Rock says he started for St. Louis Tuesday morning, and was to be arraigned in the Burlington it was said Wednesday morning that he had not arrived.

Powell is accused of shooting Levi Storha, who he acted under great provocation.

ASSOCIATION OF NAVAL VETERANS.

A second meeting was held last night of the Commodore Fox Association of Naval Veterans, the society full of old sailors.

The following officers were elected:

John W. Johnston, Commander; John W. Lister, Lieutenant Commander; Frank Williams, Secretary; Hiram K. Hazlett, Secretary and Treasurer.

Commodore Johnston made the following appointments:

John Wilson, Boatswain; Wm. C. Adeloff, Master-at-arms; Joseph H. Hilliard, Chief Engineer; William Buecher, Carpenter, Painter and Sailmaker.

Meetings will be held regularly on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Florence Davis' Sudden Death.

Florence Davis, an inmate of a resort on South Sixth street, died suddenly at her residence last night. She was going out driving, but a physician was called in, but she died soon after her arrival. The parents of the young woman are unknown to her friends. They are said to reside in Jacksonville, Ill.

Intoxicated While on Duty.

Chief of Police Harrison suspended Captain Pat Danaher of the Central Division for being intoxicated while on duty.

APPROPRIATIONS PASS.

But a Contest Is Sure When They Reach the Council.

The House of Delegates passed the appropriation bill in such shape Tuesday that a contest is sure when it gets back to the Council.

Delegate Lloyd, who has fought the $300,000 appropriation for the new City Hall, offered an amendment reducing it to $150,000.

When the House voted the $300,000, some departments were given more than they asked for and some allowances were made apparently without any record.

Delegate Watson's appropriation of $100 for repairs on the Morgue was raised to $150, and the $100 for the Auditorium was increased more than the $5,000 increase already allowed.

The Workhouse salaries appropriation was raised $3,000 for extra expenses. The Auditorium got $4,000 for current expenses and $4,50 for new buildings and repairs.

Forest Park got a $5,000 raise, although City Hall got a $10,000 increase.

Building Commissioner Ranney got $10,000 extra and the Auditorium got $10,000 more.

The police appropriation was increased $1,500.

The Council held a brief session, but nothing of importance was done.

SHORT OF DELEGATES.

National Retail Furniture Convention Fails to Materialize.

The only delegate to the National Retail Furniture Dealers' Association who arrived Wednesday morning to attend the biennial convention, set to begin at the Planters' Hotel Wednesday morning, was C. S. Hopkins of Lake City, Io. The non-arrival of the other delegates is said to be due to a misunderstanding of the date of the meeting.

Two years ago at Chicago a resolution to hold the next meeting July 12, 13 and 14 was erroneously printed in the by-laws, and the date was changed to July 11 and 12.

The charges against Patrolman Lee Smith of the Fourth District, preferred nearly three months ago, were again posted.

Lee was accused of being drunk in a saloon while on duty.

Lee was suspended for 10 days.

The board then pushed along its work of last week by disposing of the following cases:

Patrolman Robert T. Phillips of the Central District, dismissed from the force for sleeping on duty; Patrolman Francis Turner of the Central District, suspended for failing to report to his post; Patrolman Lee Smith of the Second District, fined $100 and removed from the force.

RECKLESS POLITICAL JOBBERY.

The action of the House of Delegates on the appropriation bill last night was a disgraceful exhibition of reckless jobbery and extravagance.

Not only was the Health Department given the $16,000 asked for by Dr. Starkloff for his new dispensary scheme, but $4,000 more for salaries which, with the $10,000 for the Female Hospital, makes in all a special appropriation of $30,000 for one department. The Morgue, the Work-house, the Police Department, the Park Commissioner, the Building Commissioner and the City Marshal were all favored with extra purses from the city funds.

Altogether, $50,000 was taken from the City Hall appropriation and distributed among various departments and officials, chiefly for the increase of the salary lists. Many of these appropriations had not been asked for, and there was no evidence that a single one was needed. None had the approval of the City Comptroller, whose estimates were carefully made with a full knowledge of the needs of each department.

If the city had a surplus of funds and could easily afford the appropriations made by the House, they would still be unjustifiable. The reckless increase of the salary list is an outrage on the taxpayers. There is no excuse for raising salaries now when salaries generally are being cut down. Instead of increasing the list of offices, it should be cut down. The departments are now glutted with useless employees. Extensive reductions of official lists were recently recommended by a Republican Retrenchment Committee. Additions to the salary lists should at any time be made only with the greatest care, because no matter how useless they may become, it is almost impossible to get rid of them.

But the city cannot afford any but necessary expenditures, reduced within the limit of the most rigid economy. The City Hall must be completed. The public institutions are in disgraceful condition. Public improvements are pressing. Not a cent can be spared beyond the actual needs of the departments.

If the Council does not prevent the wasteful squandering of the municipal funds voted by the House of Delegates, the Republican administration will stand convicted of reckless disregard of the city's interests.

PARTISAN VIRILITY.

The doctrine of political virility has not been preached heretofore in vain. It has found an apt and eager pupil in Judge Kerth of the St. Louis County Court.

Judge Kerth has not yet reached the highest standing in the cult of political virility. He is still a pup. He has not led a mob in a fist fight for spoils. He has not used a shot-gun or a club in an attempt to prevent a political opponent from getting any of the plums which grow on the political tree.

But the lessons scattered abroad by the local organ of "virility" in politics have sunk deep into the heart of Judge Kerth. He has announced from the bench that he and his associates are sitting as Republican judges and hereafter will give no patronage to Democratic howlers nor pay any more bills presented by them.

It must be admitted that this shows a high degree of robust partisanship and profound faith in the doctrine that to the vigor belong the spoils. There is reason to expect that as Judge Kerth nears graduation in the school of virility it will be necessary for any Democrat who has any business to transact with the County Court of St. Louis County to appear before that august Republican body in a padded foot ball suit and a base ball mask, or, mayhap, in a helmet and visor and a suit of mail.

ANOTHER STEP TOWARDS DESPOTISM.

A new set of army regulations, described in the Washington dispatches as "riot regulations," has just been promulgated. They are the logical, inevitable outcome of the use of Federal troops during the labor troubles in Chicago last year. It has been publicly announced that the promotion of Mr. Olney to Secretary of State was in large part due to President Cleveland's satisfaction with the legal defenses which, as Attorney General, he threw around that interference, and which were subsequently confirmed by the United States Supreme Court. It is said that President Cleveland has looked upon this achievement as settling a long disputed constitutional point and as engraving upon the law and policy of the country a definite extension of Federal authority.

This being so, it became necessary to provide a regular programme for Federal interference under similar conditions. These "riot regulations" provide such a programme.

They lay down instructions for the guidance of Federal army officers in dealing with "a mob." The right to determine what a "mob" is taken away from the civil authorities and vested in the commanding officer of troops, who may be, at a given point, a young Lieutenant fresh from West Point and eager for military glory. It is left to the discretion of this "commanding officer" to determine "in what manner troops shall use weapons with which they are armed—whether by fire of musketry and artillery, or both, and at what stage of the operations such or other mode of attack shall be employed." This tactical question will be decided by the immediate commander of the troops, according to his judgment of the situation.

This is a longer step towards military despotism than was taken during the civil war. The worst encroachment of that period was the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus sometimes by an arbitrary order of Secretary Stanton. But this was partially temporary and the courts speedily reasserted the supremacy of the civil power. These new army regulations are permanent, and they place in the hands of the President, as Commander-in-Chief of the army, and his military underlings, a power that would have struck with dismay the framers of the Constitution.

In England a similar stretch of authority would be followed by the fall of the Ministry and probably by the impeachment of the Minister responsible for recommending it. The exercise of this power on a few occasions will result in this country in the disbandment of the army. If the possibilities of military despotism which lie in these regulations can be availed in no other way, the people, through their Representatives, should and will disband and muster out of the service of the United States every regiment, battery and squadron. Better no army at all than one that will simply be a facile instrument of usurpation.

MAKE IT A WATERLOO.

The nomination of Cochran for the Illinois Speakership by the Republicans causes a gratifying indication of a change for the better in the Republican majority.

The defeat of Berry may be taken as an indication that the power of the corporation combine has been impaired if not broken, and that the better elements of the Republicans are making their influence effective in the party councils. Cochran's election will assure the reorganization of the committees, which is a strong point in favor of honest legislation.

With an organization of the House favorable to decency, there will be an opportunity for the better elements of both parties to get together for good legislation. Unless the Republicans are playing a game of deceit the combine can be defeated and the demands of the people met before the summer is over.

GLADSTONE'S KEYNOTE.

Mr. Gladstone has come to the rescue of the Liberal party. His two letters to his Midlothian constituents declining to be again their candidate for Parliament, were so guarded in their reference to public questions that they were interpreted by friend and foe alike as indicating indifference on his part to the result of the pending elections. In a brief message to the Liberals of London, published in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, he demonstrates the folly of this inference and strikes the keynote of a vigorous if not victorious Liberal campaign.

His message places foremost the mending or ending of the House of Lords, so as to " vindicate the rights of the House of Commons as the organ of the nation."

To this extent he backs up Lord Rosebery, who has attempted to make this the sole issue in the contest. But he thwarts Rosebery's scheme of side-tracking Irish Home Rule, by coupling with the seventh chair apologetically. "What is he traveling for—a rope walk?" Buffalo Express.

Thin Man: "These files are abominations. Baldhead: "I should say yes. Why one got in each of my ears this noon, and I heard them telephone to each other that my mate was a regular snap for tobogganning." Syracuse Journal.

Faren: "How much wealth do you think a man ought to accumulate before he can safely ask a girl to marry him?" Kooler (inspecting him): "It depends on the man. You will probably have to accumulate a million."—Chicago Tribune.

A Singer on Other Shores. From Swinburne's poem in memory of Miss Rosetti in the Nineteenth Century.

Scarce yet the days and the starry nights are three,
Girt with life that is fettered in bonds of time.

And now, more high than the vision of soul myself climb,

The soul whose song was as music of stars that climb,

Clothed round with life as of dawn and the sun,

Sings, and we know not here of the song sublime.

No word is ours of it now that the songs are done.

Whence here we drank of delight as in free won."

In due deliverance given from the bonds we bore.

There is none to sing as she sung upon earth, not one.

The fact that Jack Gross, a prominent machine politician of Kentucky, has announced that he will support Carlisle for Senator seems to indicate that the Secretary wants the Senatorship. If Carlile should be taken up, several very ambitious and loquacious persons who have made themselves conspicuous in the denunciation of honest money, and who have quckood faithfully in all the turbulence of the recent convention campaign, will be grievously disappointed.

As it is announced that crossing the trousers is out of fashion, it may be inferred that this means either the adoption of knickerbockers or a return to the old-fashioned bag-at-the-knees garment so common a few years ago, and which has never entirely disappeared.

It seems likely that all the Cabinet ladies may provide themselves with bicycles. If some of the Cabinet gentlemen had procured bicycles early in '88 and done nothing else to this day but ride them the country would have been the better for it.

The ex-President promptly denies that he is opposed to women riding bicycles. It would be well, perhaps, for all the other statesmen who want a Presidential nomination to define at once their position as to gum chewing and bicycle riding new women.

The greatest combination that the window glass industry has ever known has just been consummated. As the window glass industry still has high tariff protection, the formation of this trust ought to be an object lesson to America.

The great ship St. Louis is increasing her speed, while St. Louis' great newspaper is increasing its circulation and advertising patronage. The Post-Dispatch and the big ship are both up to date and the recipients of popular applause.

There is not going to be any great Democratic kick against any tariff large enough to pay the expenses of the Government, honestly administered. It is the taxation that builds up monopolies against which all good citizens protest.

It looks as if the St. Louis white Republicans will have to recognize black voters by giving places to some of them or by paying the clubs for services rendered. In either case the Afro-American is a troublesome quantity.

At Asbury Park 33 per cent of the female bicyclists are in bloomers, and one has actually come out in knickerbockers. Now, if there is anybody who wants to stand aghast, it is time for them to get in their aghast.

If it be true that the rich widow of the great American showman is to marry a Britisher, he must not expect to be lionized by the many deserving bachelors of this country who are in need of a wealthy mate.

A Brooklyn embalming expert has found that he can petrify dead bodies. But do we really want our mummies tossed about in the centuries to come as the ancient Egyptians have been in our day?

The attempt to muzzle Senator Blackburn in Kentucky has had the effect to arouse the indignation of the silver Democrats, and it is likely to have any other effect than that of promoting harmony.

It is alleged that Boss Quay of Pennsylvania often looks bashful. The museum manager will all rush to Pennsylvania when they hear of this bashful Boss.

The President should be thankful that his boys are all girls. Had they been boys, his time might have been taken up with other rods than flogging rods.

The Indians of British Honduras have found that the gold standard has jugged them out of half their pay. Send them some "answers to Coinage."

The Whisky Trust is ended, but trusting for whisky is not. The ending of this last would be an effective temperance measure.

Brooklyn has just put on a trolley mail car, which is quite an old-fashioned scheme now in electrical St. Louis.

Boss domination is the curse of both the great parties. No good has ever come of boss rule.

"I hate those bicycles built for two," said Miss Jenkinson. "It encourages people to talk behind your back."—Harper's Bazaar.

He: "How do you like Foppington, Miss Barrow?" Miss Barrow: "Not at all. He can't pronounce his r's, and I do detect him addressing as Miss Bow-Wow."—Pearson's Weekly.

"Where did you get that cigar?" demanded the boss Barber, severely. "From the travelling man, sir," replied the journeyman. "The anti-Lord's issue the duty to establish the honor of England as well as consolidate the strength of the Empire by conceding the just constitutional needs of each department.

WELL KNOWN ST. LOUISANS.

MAFFITT AND THE CONVENTION.

From the St. Charles Banner.

Ex-Gov. Francis is playing a desperate game in trying to keep the Democrats from holding a State convention in Missouri this year. The people have stood about all they are going to from Messrs. Francis and Maffitt, and they will say so in no uncertain tones.

From the Lebanon Rustic.

Chairman of Maffitt's committee Monday that he was sick and refused to talk about the State convention. There will be other sick gold bugs in Missouri but if they are Democrats they will take the medicine like me.

From the Sedalia Democrat.

The Democrat believes in regularity and conservatism in party matters, but there is no call for the masses of the party to get down on their knees to Chairman Maffitt of the State Committee; and he deserves to consider requests sent to him because they were delivered to him by a committee instead of by mail, which made him chairman should be swift to dispose him, even if necessary to hold conventions in every county and begin the organization from the foundation. A committee-man is a servant of the party, and while he is charged with certain duties, he is never authorized in permitting his individual opinions to lead him to insult the source of all political authority.

From the Lebanon Rustic.

Has Mr. Zevely been sent from the Democrats of his district yet? As he seems slow and dull of comprehension we will state for his information that every one of the thirteen counties in his district have declared for free silver at 16 to 1, and an early State convention. They also favor Zevely's resolution if he continues to misrepresent them.

From the Springfield Democrat.

EZETA'S EXPEDITION.

Preparing to Swoop Down on Luckless Salvador.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 10.—Gen. Ezeta and his followers are said to be nearly ready for their attack upon Salvador. For some time there has been a lack of funds in the war chest of the exile, but it is reported that today he can muster a large sum of money from the American and Mexican governments, and the balance of what is needed will be supplied. Ezeta is said to be negotiating for a sealing or whaling steamer which will take him to Salvador. He has sent to Santa Barbara channel arms and ammunition which will be shipped there for that purpose. Sharpened bayonets, rifles as have been used in the past, and revolvers, upon whose bravery and fighting qualities he may rely. His equipment will consist of 1000 men, 1000 horses, 1000 mules, as many revolvers and 300,000 rounds of ammunition.

With the equipment he is confident that he can easily land his forces and drive the enemies of the present Government and proceed to the capital.

A few days ago Ezeta sent a proclamation to Salvador calling upon the natives to rally to his support upon his arrival.

TO GIVE A BULL FIGHT.

A Colorado Town Arranging a Carnival of Sports.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., July 10.—Arrangements are being made for the holding of a carnival of sports, of which a genuine bull fight is to be the principal feature, at Gillette, one of the towns in the Cripple Creek district, early in the fall. Two of the most popular towns in the Mexican capital have been engaged. Gates for 10,000 persons are now being erected. A wild West show will be another feature. The authorities state that they will prevent the affair.

AWARDED $360.

A School Teacher's Damage Suit on Account of a Slander.

GREELEY, Colo., July 10.—Miss M. E. Langton, the teacher in the Little Thompson school district, recently sued Mrs. Anna Worrell for $2,000 damages, charging slander and alleging that Mrs. Worrell had charged the school teacher with undue intimacy with a promiscuous ranchman, at whom home she boarded. After five hours, the jury awarded Miss Langton a verdict for $300 and costs. The defense made a motion for a new trial.

BROWN-POTTER RECONCILED.

The Actress and Her Family Patch Up a Peace.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Advises from New York say that the Brown-Potters have become reconciled. Mrs. Brown-Potter lost many of her fashionable friends by adopting the stage as a profession. Although the Urquartis remained friendly to her, the rest of the town had turned against her. Mrs. Dr. Richardson of New Orleans, who has always been one of James Brown-Potter's sympathizers, is said to have brought about the reconciliation.

Creve Coeur Lake.

The water is at its usual stage, with new steam launch running. Good boating and fishing, with music for dancing on Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays. Round trip tickets, via Missouri Pacific Railway, 50 cents. Last train leaves lake on week days at 9:30 p.m.; on Sundays at 9:10 p.m.

MISSOURI DENTISTS MEET.

The State Dental Law Pronounced the Best in the Country.

PERTH SPRINGS, Mo., July 10.—The thirty-first annual meeting of the Missouri State Dental Association began here yesterday. The morning session was devoted to reports and to the election of six new members. President J. T. Frey, in his annual report, referred to the Probate law as the best in the United States in all respects. The afternoon was devoted to general discussion of this and other topics.

Profits of a Fire Sale.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The entire cargo of Ward and Son's lumber was supposed to be sold directly to the public and sold at auction for $3,500. Now the buyer finds it so little hurt that he expects to clear nearly $30,000 on it.

For a Brain Stimulant

Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. W. F. Tombs, Morristown, Ark., says: "It is certainly the finest brain stimulant I have found."

Good Luck His Misfortune.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEALDALE, Mo., July 10.—A letter has been received from Mr. K. T. Hunt, to New Orleans and collect a lottery ticket calling for $7,000. When he reached the Crescent City, however, the office had closed. Fots is now penniless and lies dangerously ill with relatives in Texas.

KNEE BREECHES AND HOSE.

A Brooklyn Woman Suggests That the Mayor Set the Fashion.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Brooklyn is getting excited over the proposed reform in men's clothing, by the introduction of knee breeches and hose. The manufacturers are urging it. One of them has suggested that the Mayor and city officials set the fashion, believing it would quickly be followed. The Mayor, however, has not yet been seen.

MOBS AND THE ARMY.

Some New Regulations for the Government of Troops.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—Important rules for the guidance of the army in dealing with mobs are incorporated in the new army regulations, which will also apply to the militia when called into the field. It is made a provision that it shall not be lawful to employ any part of the army or a posse comitatus or otherwise, for the purpose of executing the laws, except in such cases and under such circumstances as such employment may be expressly authorized by the Constitution or by act of Congress.

There are moments when the army or in case of attempted robbery or interruption of United States mails or other emergency, so momentous as to render it unsafe to wait for orders from the War Department, the army may take such action before the receipt of instructions, as circumstances may justify, but he will be held responsible for any error.

The troops will not be permitted to act under the orders of any civil officer.

Every man is defined as a public enemy, provided it is manifestly threatening or obstructing the execution of the laws of the United States or attempting to destroy property belonging to the government or the United States. The method of attack whether with steel or bullets—is declared a tactical question to be decided by the commanding general.

The maximum monthly pay for troops is limited to the rate of $2 monthly, instead of all medicines and office and mail patients free. Trial treatment free to those applying in person.

Everybody wants either to be sure of immunity from disease-gangs involving such personal risk as to require long and expensive treatment. So that the tests made available by Copeland Medical Institute, 816 Olive, on which Dr. Copeland has invited all who are interested to come and take personal advantage of very friendly and inexpensive all disease poisons, and the first to receive treatment for its medical mastery, his views are now quite generally accepted.

Many accredited authorities maintain that nine out of every ten persons in our climate have some disease.

Everybody wants either to be sure of immunity from disease-gangs involving such personal risk as to require long and expensive treatment. So that the tests made available by Copeland Medical Institute, 816 Olive, on which Dr. Copeland has invited all who are interested to come and take personal advantage of very friendly and inexpensive all disease poisons, and the first to receive treatment for its medical mastery, his views are now quite generally accepted.

The list of symptoms questions is given below. To find which apply to your case, return to Dr. Copeland, or send by mail if you are out of the city.

DON'T WAIT!

Ship that have been crippled by the tempest and snatched away by hard voyages are mended and strengthened, against coming thunder and lightning, while yet in the quiet of the docks. To wait until the ship is rocking in mid-ocean storms is to tempt the destroying angels! And Dr. Copeland would kindly warn the invalid that one month's treatment now, aided by summer's healing rays, is worth two months of uphill doctoring against the rigors and blizzards of winter! Begin treatment now!
